... Mr. Editor, you ought to have been at 'Squire Steward's on Thursday last, that is if your appetite is good and you are not dyspeptic. It being Mrs. Steward's 36th birthday, her friends intended to give her a complete surprise, and in order to do so the 'Squire had to help, so he and Mrs. S. went to Napoleon; then was our time; the friends gathered in to the number of about fifty or more—the men soon had a table 36 feet long in the barn, and then the good women brought in their baskets which were well filled with good things, and loaded the table so there was room for nothing more, and then sat down to await the return of the 'Squire and his wife. All things worked well up to this time, and would have been a complete success had it not been for a Mr. Geo. Myers, who met the 'Squire within 80 rods of home, and informed Mrs. S. of what was going on. Mrs. S. received the following list of presents:

Set silver teaspoons, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Slee; apron, Mrs. Minnie; linen towel, M. Bowers; pickle dish, Mrs. Emma Price; lace, Mrs. Katie Price; shoes and other presents, Mr. John Syles and wife and Mrs. T. Haver.

After several years of adversity, we learn from the amusement column of a city paper, that G. G. Grady will have the largest and best circus in the world next season. G. G. Grady is a Wyandot county boy, who formed the idea of being a showman when a mere bit of a boy, and has followed the bent of that inclination ever since. He was as earnest and sincere in this as any minister who had his eye fixed on Zion. He first started out with a little puppet show, making a round of the school houses. This show consisted of a square box, large enough to contain himself. In front was an opening covered with white paper greased to make it transparent. After extinguishing all the lights outside, Grady would get in this box, illuminate it with several tallow dips, and indicate by a little bell that the show would commence. Everything was dark but the sheen of white greased paper in front of the box in full view of the audience. Here Grady, with the aid of a couple of sticks and figures cut out of paste-board, would regale his assembled multitude with the maneuvers and antics he had power to give them, accompanying the same with a rambling colloquy of words, with here and there a snatch or two of the then popular melodies. Wonderful as it may seem in this age of the world, the performance seemed to take, and frequent and wild sometimes was the applause. From this puppet-show Grady progressed until he visited his native county with a fine tented circus and menagerie, and for several seasons made a tour of the country. He had amassed considerable property in his show and otherwise, but when the Barnums and Forepaws launched their mammoth aggregations, the little ones had to go under, and Grady went with them. Since then he has led a kind of nomadic life, always inventing, organizing or grasping at enterprises to entertain the public. Energy and perseverance, no matter in what way directed, will not forever go unrewarded, and we are glad to learn that fortune is once more smiling on our G. G.—Wyandot Union.

OBITUARY.

RAMBACHER.—Mr. Lawrence Rambacher, a well known farmer of Ridgeville twp., this county, dropped dead Aug. 23d, 1886, while assisting Mr. Jennings in boring a well, aged 57 years and 19 days.

The deceased was born in Bavaria, Germany, Aug. 10, 1829, and emigrated to Wayne county, this State, about 30 years ago, where he was married in 1859 and in the same year moved to Ridgeville twp., this county, which was then a dense forest. He, under the hardships and privations of a pioneer's life, has improved a fine farm, and reared a family of two children, John and Charles aged respectively 17 and 15, which are left alone in the world, for their mother who has been mentally deranged for some time, can not call for their wants as a mother should.

Mr. Rambacher served in the last years of the war, where he contracted a disease of the heart which is supposed to have caused his death. He served as trustee of this township for five years; the duties of this office he discharged with great efficiency. A large concourse of friends and neighbors followed his remains to the cemetery where his remains were deposited according to the rights of the Roman Catholic Church. As a neighbor and associate Mr. Rambacher was universally beloved and his sudden death caused many an eye to moisten, and especially those of the relatives and acquaintances, for he was always in good spirits and never heard to complain, although he suffered severely at times, from the disease which caused his death. The family and relatives have the sympathy of the whole community.

Lost Faith in Physicians.

There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by Scott's Sarsaparilla, or Blood and Liver Syrup, for all diseases of the blood, when the patient had been given up by physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, as a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effective than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take Scott's Blood and Liver Syrup for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by all leading professional men. Im

The watermelon is the most abused production of modern times, says a newspaper writer. He is held king over the digestive organs. In truth he is the most potent fever-killer that comes to the table. The person who eats his course of soup, fish, flesh and fowl, besides the entrees, and then feasts upon pie, cake and ice cream, and finishes with a quartet of a thirty pound melon, never falls to lay his colic to the melon. In fact whether the person who lives on melon will see every indication of fever disappear.

You will notice how quickly a thoroughly successful article is imitated, and also that the imitations are without merit, as they are gotten up by unscrupulous parties. Beware of imitations of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic. The genuine is sold by J. C. Saur, and promptly cures dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, piles, pimples, acne and malaria diseases, poor appetite, low spirits, headache, or diseases of the kidneys, stomach and liver. Price fifty cents.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me great good. I was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." Mrs. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"I suffered three years from blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and I think I am cured." Mrs. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.
